“Save Money!”

In these economical times it is important to increase your company's revenue instead of losing it. Many companies are downsizing, consolidating, or eliminating their IT departments completely, only to have their computer systems sent to a Headquarters which costs valuable money. Not only does the company have to spend money on shipping, they have to pay for the loss of productivity.

Don't stand for a loss in revenue & eliminate the need to spend money having your computers sent out to be worked on. We at Compsult Inc work with company IT departments as their "hands" for onsite repair, installation, consultation, & same day results. Some of our clients have out of town or out of state IT departments that have found using our services have not only saved them money but greatly reduced downtime & loss of revenue.
